

Category: Technology & Design

Knick Elektronische
Messgeräte

Knick >

P16800 - Universal speed signal converter

P16800 is world's first speed signal doubler with functional safety for rail transportation.

The non- reactive decoupling of speed signals from safety-critical measuring circuits in accordance with SIL 4 and the functionally safe signal duplication in accordance with SIL 2 make the integration of additional sensors unnecessary in many applications.

